Good afternoon Jon,

I just wanted to thank you for your assistance in the near-miss situation involving the Ioannis R & Andrea Palladio. Your fast reporting was key in the response effort that was taken in order to help avoid a collision between these two vessels. I would also like to extend my appreciation for relaying information directly to the Master in a prompt and effective manner during a time-sensitive and potentially hazardous situation. While it is impossible to determine if a collision would have occurred without action by the vessel, this near-miss situation is undeniable and your efforts to assist were greatly appreciated throughout.

Thank you and all the best,

William Campbell
